

The power of opportunity

Transform the business world as a CGMA designation holder

How is finance evolving?

Historically, being a finance professional was all about numbers. Now, it's so much more. In a world where new technology, data and digital platforms are transforming businesses, finance professionals are redefining what success looks like – driving impact, delivering solutions and creating value for businesses worldwide.

How can the CGMA designation help my career?

The Chartered Global Management Accountant® (CGMA) designation enhances your employability – 87% of global employers say they will pay a premium to hire a CGMA designation holder.

Businesses around the globe recognize and prize the CGMA designation because they know what it takes to qualify. You will master the latest, most in-demand skills, gain practical experience and build a powerful professional network while earning the world's most widely held management accounting designation. If you study accounting, finance or business, the CGMA designation will enhance your learning and give you an advantage in the workforce.

650,000	Members and students of the AICPA and CIMA
173,000	Organizations that employ our members
179	Countries and territories where CGMA designation members live
54	Supported credentials, designations, diplomas and certificates
33	Representative offices around the world
4	Premier globally recognized designations, including CPA and CGMA
91	Number of Fortune 100 companies that employ CGMA designation holders

Who awards the designation?

The CGMA designation is granted by the American Institute of CPAs® (AICPA®) and the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants® (CIMA®). AICPA & CIMA have guided the evolution of accounting and finance for over a century, and together they power the Association of International Certified Professional Accountants®.

What is the CGMA Finance Leadership Program?

The CGMA Finance Leadership Program (FLP) is your online pathway to completing the CGMA designation. The CGMA designation proves you have the skills that businesses need.

You are assessed at each topic as you learn, all within the platform. All three levels of the CGMA Finance Leadership Program culminate with a case study exam to test your mastery of the business concepts and your ability to apply your knowledge and skills in real-world business situations.

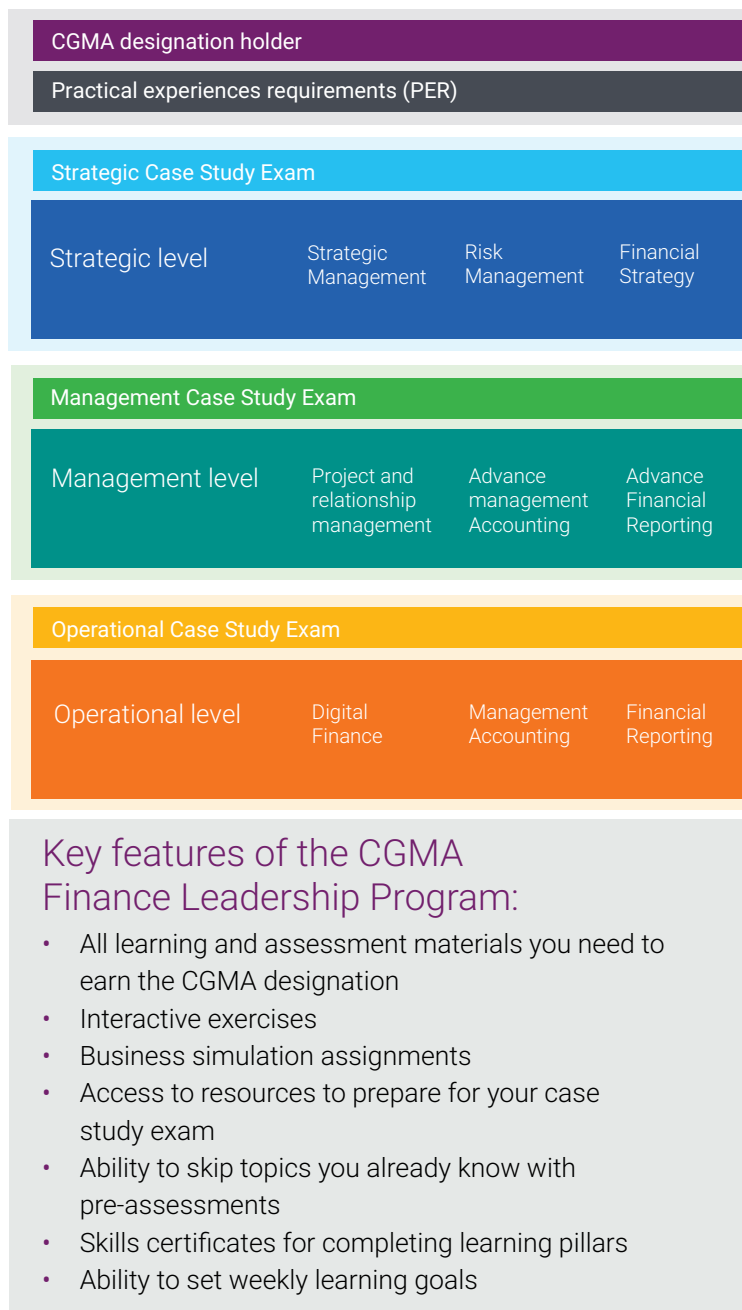

What are the benefits of the CGMA Finance Leadership Program?

- 1. Develop a globally in-demand career
Companies around the world demand the knowledge and skills of management accountants.
- 2. Stand out from the crowd
As you progress through the program, you'll complete competencies in critical areas to earn skill certificates. These show employers you're ahead of the curve.
- 3. Gain unprecedented access to different industries and business functions
Once you qualify as a CGMA designation holder, you will understand all areas of business. As a result, you can choose from a much wider range of roles and industries.
- 4. Digital-first learning and assessment
The CGMA Finance Leadership Program offers an immersive, personalized and highly practical learning and assessment experience. You don't just study scenarios, you build the real-world experience you need to become a leader.

CGMA Finance Leadership Program structure

The CGMA Finance Leadership Program is designed to give you the skills, practical experience and forward-thinking, entrepreneurial mindset that businesses expect of their finance professionals.

The convenient platform includes all the learning you need to build competencies, prepare for exams and complete the designation in one place.

Entry into the CGMA Finance Leadership Program

Your relevant prior learning and qualifications allow you entry into the CGMA Finance Leadership Program at a level that is right for you, so you can qualify as a CGMA designation holder sooner.

For more information on the CGMA Finance Leadership Program, please visit cgma.org/flp